This Financial Services Guide (“FSG”) is an important document which we are required to give you under the requirements of our Australian Financial Services Licence. This FSG sets out the services that we can offer you. It is designed to assist you in deciding whether to use any of those services and contains important information about:

- the services we offer you.
- how we and others are paid.
- any potential conflict of interest we may have.
- our internal and external dispute resolution procedures and how you can access them.
- arrangements we have in place to compensate clients for losses.

This FSG includes the Adviser Profile attached, which includes information about your advisers. You should read this FSG in conjunction with the Adviser Profile. Safeguard authorises the distribution of this FSG and Adviser Profile.

Further information when personal advice is provided

You will receive a “Disclosure Statement” outlining information about remuneration and/or other benefits Safeguard and/or its Authorised Representatives may receive and any interests or associations they have that may influence the advice given. This information is disclosed on your tax invoice. For retail clients, the tax invoice will also include the dollar amounts of our fees and commissions.

When you ask Safeguard to recommend an insurance policy for you, Safeguard will usually only consider the policies offered by the insurers or insurance providers that Safeguard deals with regularly. In giving you advice about the costs and terms of recommended policies Safeguard has not compared those policies to all other policies available. Safeguard reviews all insurers it deals with regularly. When considering the renewal of your insurance policy, in general Safeguard will seek additional quotes where there has been a substantial increase in your renewal premium and/or your policy conditions have altered significantly.

If Safeguard arranges personal accident and illness insurance for you, you will receive a Statement of Advice (“SOA”). This SOA will contain the advice, the basis on which it is given and information about fees, commissions and any associations which may have influenced the advice.

Not Independent

While we will always seek to meet our legal obligations to act in our clients’ best interests within the meaning of section 961B of the Corporations Act 2001, we do not fall within the definitions of ‘independent’, ‘unbiased’ or ‘impartial’ under section 923A. The reason we do not fall within these definitions is because:

- we or our representatives may receive remuneration from:
 - the issuer of the product you buy (e.g. commission that we retain); or
 - other third parties for related services provided in connection with the personal advice service (e.g. premium funding),

We explain such arrangements in more detail in this document and you can ask us for more detail.

Product Disclosure Statement

If Safeguard offers to arrange the issue of an insurance policy to you, Safeguard will also provide you with, or pass on to you, a product disclosure statement (“PDS”) or short-form PDS unless you already have an up to date PDS or short-form PDS from the insurer. The PDS or short-form PDS will contain information about the policy which will enable you to make an informed decision about purchasing that policy.

From when does this FSG apply?

This FSG applies from 1 July 2021 and remains valid unless a further FSG is issued to replace it.

Will I receive tailored advice?

It will depend upon the specific circumstances. Where Safeguard provides tailored advice, Safeguard may need information about your personal objectives, details of your current financial situation and any other relevant information, so that Safeguard can arrange insurance policies for you or give you advice about your insurance needs.

You have a right not to divulge this information to Safeguard if you do not wish to do so. In that case, Safeguard is required by law to warn you about the possible consequences of Safeguard not having your full personal information. For example, you risk obtaining advice or acquiring insurance policies that may not be appropriate for your circumstances, needs or objectives.

You should read the warnings contained in any SOA/Disclosure Statement or any other warnings that Safeguard gives you carefully before making any decision about an insurance policy.

Where we provide you with advice about your insurance arrangements, that advice is current at the time that we give it. We will review your insurance arrangements when you inform us about changes in your circumstances.

Contractual Liability and your insurance cover

Many commercial or business contracts contain clauses dealing with your liability (including indemnities or hold harmless clauses). Such clauses may entitle your insurers to reduce cover, or in some cases, refuse to indemnify you at all. You should seek legal advice before signing and accepting contracts. You should inform us of any clauses of this nature before you enter into them.

What information do you maintain in my file?

Safeguard maintains a record of your personal profile, including details of insurance policies that Safeguard arranges for you. Safeguard may also maintain records of any recommendations or advice given to you. Safeguard will retain this FSG and any other FSG given to you as well as any SOA/Disclosure Statement for the period required by law.

Safeguard is committed to implementing and promoting a privacy policy, which will ensure the privacy and security of your personal information. A copy of Safeguard's privacy statement is available on our website or on request.

Do I have to advise you of material changes?

You must notify your insurer of any significant changes which occur during the period of insurance. If you do not, your insurances may be inadequate to cover you.

Safeguard can assist you to do this to ensure that your contract of insurance is altered to reflect those changes.

How will I pay for the services provided?

Payment for the services Safeguard provides is payable directly to Safeguard. For each insurance product the insurer will charge a premium that includes any relevant taxes, charges and levies. Safeguard often receives a payment based on a percentage of this premium (excluding relevant taxes, charges and levies) called commission, which is paid to Safeguard by the insurers. In most cases Safeguard will also charge a Broker Fee. You can choose to pay by any of the payment methods set out in the invoice. You are required to pay Safeguard within the time set out in the invoice.

If there is a refund or reduction of your premium as a result of a cancellation, alteration to a policy, or a change based on a term of your policy, Safeguard will retain any fee we have charged. We will also retain our commission depending on our arrangements with the insurer or charge you a cancellation fee equal to the reduction in commission.

When you pay Safeguard your premium it will be banked into Safeguard's trust account. Safeguard retains the commission and/or fees from the premium you pay, and remits the balance to the insurer in accordance with Safeguard's arrangements with the insurer. Safeguard will earn interest on the premium while it is in Safeguard's trust account, or Safeguard may invest the premium and earn a return. Safeguard will retain any interest or return on investment earned on the premium.

Financial Hardship

If you are suffering financial hardship please contact your broker direct who will seek to assist. Safeguard may be able to arrange premium funding or extended credit terms with your insurer. It is vital you keep communicating with your broker so that we can liaise with insurers and/or the premium funders on your behalf to maintain coverage wherever possible.

How are any commissions, fees or other benefits calculated for providing the financial services?

Safeguard's commission will be calculated based on the following formula: $X = Y\% \times P$

In this formula: X = Safeguard's commission, Y% = the percentage commission paid to Safeguard by the insurer. Safeguard's commission varies between 0% and 30%, P = the amount you pay for any insurance policy (less any government fees or charges included in that amount).

Commissions earned will typically be as follows:

Retail Products		Wholesale Products
Motor Vehicle	0 — 15.0%	Workers Compensation	0 — 5.0%
Home & Contents	0 — 25.0%	All other wholesale products	0 — 27.0%
Personal Accident and Illness	0 — 22.5%
Pleasure Craft	0 — 20.0%
Travel	0 — 30.0%

Any broker fees that Safeguard charges you will be based upon the time spent providing you with the advisory services you require. All fees charged (retail and wholesale products) will be disclosed to you in the tax invoice provided to you.

Where a third party has referred you to Safeguard, Safeguard or its Authorised Representative may pay the referrer a percentage of up to 50% of the initial commission. Further information will be disclosed to you in the SOA/Disclosure Statement.

Safeguard will retain up to 40% of all commissions and fees received as a Management Fee. The remaining commissions and fees will be distributed to the following Corporate Authorised Representatives of Safeguard:

- Austlife Holdings Pty Ltd (CAR No. 244425), and
- Kingsley Asset Pty Ltd (CAR No. 302709).

At the time of issuing this FSG Safeguard is unable to provide you with the exact dollar amount of remuneration and/or benefits Safeguard may receive in relation to your policies, however Safeguard will, either when the advice is given, or as soon as practicable thereafter, provide retail clients with information disclosing the exact dollar amount of any remuneration and/or benefits Safeguard will receive. This information will be included in your tax invoice. You have a right to request further particulars in relation to remuneration received by Safeguard and its representatives.

Does Safeguard receive any other income or other benefits in arranging my insurances?

From time to time Safeguard may receive training allowances and certain 'hospitality benefits' such as tickets to sporting events, movies, meals, bottles of wine, hampers etc. The receipt of these benefits may be based upon the volume of business placed with the provider but may also be more of an ad hoc reward. The maximum value of these during the year is unable to be determined. However, the details of individual benefits in excess of $100 are able to be viewed on a specially maintained Register upon your request.

If Safeguard and/or its Authorised Representatives arrange premium funding for you it may be paid a commission by the premium funder. Safeguard may also charge you a fee (or both). The commission that Safeguard is paid by the premium funder is usually calculated as a percentage of your insurance premium (including government fees or charges). Safeguard is entitled to the commission when you instruct us to arrange a premium funded policy for you.

Safeguard commission rates for premium funding are in the range of 0 to 3% of funded premium. When Safeguard arranges premium funding for you, you can ask Safeguard what commission rates Safeguard is paid for that funding arrangement. In addition to this commission payment, we may be entitled to receive an override of between 0% - 1% of your premium.

In the event of cancellation of a premium funded policy, the return premium (less any fees or charges resulting from cancellation of the policy) will be forwarded to you unless there are any outstanding instalments due to the premium funder. Commission received as a result of premium funding will not be returned to you when a policy is cancelled.

It is important to note that when you enter into a premium funding contract you are entering into a separate contract direct with the premium funding company.

Does Safeguard have any relationships or associations with the insurers who issue the insurance policies or any other material relationships?

Steadfast has exclusive arrangements with some insurers and premium funders ("Partners") under which Steadfast will receive between 0.5% - 1.5% commission for each product arranged by Safeguard with those Partners.
